Mr. Kevin P Sherman is currently an Orthopaedic Consultant and Associate Postgraduate Dean in East Yorkshire, England. After graduating from the Universities of Cambridge and Oxford in 1975, he has dedicated his orthopaedic career not only to surgical expertise, but also as an educator, both in UK and internationally.

He is keenly involved in teaching. He was as member of the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee for the new Hull/York Medical School from 2001 to 2002 and Co-Chair and then Chair of the Musculoskeletal Curriculum Group from 2004 to 2006. Having spent five years as Chair of the Internal Quality Assurance Sub-committee (IQA) of the ICBSE (Intercollegiate Committee for Basic Surgical Examinations), currently in third year of tenure as Chair of ICBSE, Mr. Sherman is deeply involved in the development of, and quality assurance of, the MRCS examination both in the UK and internationally. He had been the Royal College of Surgeons Regional Specialty Advisor (Deanery Programme Director) and Chair of the Regional Specialty Training Committee of orthopaedic training for Yorkshire, UK from 2001 to 2006. He is also an MRCS examiner since 1999 and was an Intercollegiate Board examiner for the FRCS (Tr & Orth) from 1998 to 2006, being on the written paper committee from 2003 to 2006.

Appointed Charnley Orthopaedic Tutor at the Royal College of Surgeons of England in 2003, Mr. Sherman had remained as Orthopaedic Tutor at the College until 2011, during which time he represented the Royal Colleges on the British Orthopaedic Association Education Committee. During this time as Orthopaedic Tutor he has developed a number of new surgical training courses, both at the RCSEng and in collaboration with the Edinburgh and Glasgow Colleges. He was also involved in the development of courses in a number of cities around the UK, including London, Cambridge, Warwick and York and was on the organizing committee of the British Orthopaedic Association Instructional Course from 2009 to 2012.

Among his many accomplishments and contributions, Mr. Sherman would certainly be acknowledged for his engagement to the HKCOS, for which every year since 2004 he has been on the faculty as an overseas tutor on the Joint Specialty Fellowship Examination Preparatory Course for 10 consecutive years. For the last four years he is also on the Orthopaedic Basic Science and Anatomy course at LKS Faculty of Medicine, The University of Hong Kong, contributing a number of lectures and handouts for the course. Needless to say, his passion in teaching has attracted both the local as well as overseas surgeons to join his tutorials in Hong Kong. Despite his busy schedule, he has been making a tremendous effort in bringing up our local orthopaedic trainees.
